SHARKEY SAYS JEFFRIES SHOULD WIN BIG FIGHT

"Sailor Tom" Declares the Length of the Contest Merely Depends Upon the Ability of Big Boilermaker to Get Wind Back.

New York, Dec. 27.—"If Jeffries gets his wind back, there won't be any fight; there will be a slaughter. If Jeffries fails to get his wind back he'll be just an ordinary fighter and the schap between Jeffries and Johnson will be one grand ring battle."

That is the opinion of Tom Sharkey. In an extended interview today the sailor, who, in the olden days could take and give more punishment than any man who ever donned the five-ounce gloves, declares that if Jeffries, by hard training, recovers his wind, he'll make Johnson a fit subject for a coroner's inquest.

Sharkey states that a black man hasn't the stamina and backbone to face a white man of equal merit and come off victor.

Jeffries, Sharkey declares is the fighter of a century. He tells of his memorable battle with Jeffries at Coney Island and declares that Jeffries has a defense that is impregnable. No man, Sharkey says, can break through Jeff's left and land a good clean blow. And a jolt from that right—it means defeat; that's all Sharkey can see in it. Sharkey declares the stories that for the past few years Jeffries has been hitting the pace that kills. No man, he says, could round into shape as Jeff has if he had led such a pace. Sharkey admits that Johnson is the next best man in the ring. He declares no fighter has ever made Johnson extend himself fully, and there is no telling what the black can do when he meets a man of Jeff's prowess—but he cannot whip Jeffries, good or bad.

At the bottom—A group of marines ready to fire. These men are now in Nicaragua, where a clash is expected any day.

WOLVERINE ALUMNI WANT FACULTY TO TAKE CONTROL

Miller Difficulty May Result in Shifting Athletic Responsibility to Shoulders of Higher Authorities at Michigan.

Faculty control of athletics at Michigan instead of domination by the regents is now the cry of University of Michigan alumni. Graduates of the Ann Arbor school have come out strong for a return to the old faculty leadership, which it is believed would mean Michigan's return to the conference.

Following the surprise and embarrassment caused by the revelations in regard to Captain-elect J. Joy Miller, the alumni affirmed that faculty control, which was taken away by the regents before Michigan left the conference, should be restored. A strong statement to the same effect has reached Wolverine alumni from Professor Andrew C. McLaughlin of the University of Chicago, an alumnus and former professor of Michigan.

Professor McLaughlin's opinions advocating complete faculty control are given in the current number of the "Michigan Bulletin." He says that the question of whether Michigan should return belongs only to the professors at Ann Arbor.

Faculty Control at Stake.

"Really, 'Shall Michigan enter the conference?' should mean 'Shall a representative of the Michigan faculty join with others in an effort to control athletics?' or 'Shall Michigan refuse to act with the others and do as she pleases?' From the faculty point of view, how can there be anything but an answer to such a question, unless regulations adopted by the majority seem quite unsuited to the conditions existing at Ann Arbor? Such a decision should be left to the unfettered opinion of the faculty."

"This subject has been discussed nearly all the time as if it were a question solely for athletes as to whether they preferred to play east or west. It ought to be solely a question as to whether the Michigan faculty is willing to co-operate with other faculties of the West and accept what seems fair to the majority after fair, candid and gentlemanly consideration of a situation."

Students Caused Change.

"To satisfy student demands, which probably a large part of the present student body now thinks unwise, the faculty was made to submit to the proposition to withdraw from the meetings of the faculty men of the western colleges. The very organization and method of appointment of the Michigan board of control was altered—a step decidedly retrogressive—and Michigan gave up a position in which she had always been a leader and retired from a conference in which she had held an honorable place and in which she had had much influence in the bettering of western athletics."

"The idea sometimes gathered from this 'late unpleasantness' that the students are unruly, headstrong and unmanageable, is quite unfounded in fact. The students now appear to wish to come back into Western athletics. But, though no one respects student sentiment based on sober second thought more than the writer of these paragraphs, it must be said that this should not be a matter for student decision or alumni influence. The faculty should have full control of the problem of managing athletics for the best interests of the college."

Faculty Should Decide.

"The faculty should have the right to decide whether it desires to co-operate with other faculties in the handling of a perplexing and trying problem."

While Professor McLaughlin does not state his positive position on the question of Michigan's return, he and other prominent alumni are considered

OFFICIAL AVERAGES FOR NATIONAL LEAGUE READY

Bridwell of New York Ties Hans Wagner for First Honors for Short— Stops—Gibson Caught in 150 Games, Breaking Record.

New York, Dec. 27.—Captain Frank Chance, of Chicago, leads all National league first basemen in the averages for the season of 1933, as announced today. With a percentage of .894 for 92 games he is closely followed by Bransfield, of Philadelphia, with a percentage of .889 for 138 games. Storkie, who played with both Pittsburgh and St. Louis, tied Chance's fielding average, but he played in only 19 games.

Bridwell, of New York, with 145 games to his credit, and Hans Wagner, of Pittsburgh, with 135, are tied with .940 per cent. in the fielding averages, for shortstops.

Hummel, of Brooklyn, played a perfect score in 17 games as an outfielder, but Captain Clarke, of Pittsburgh, has probably the best average, with 153 games played and a percentage of .987. Gibson, of Pittsburgh, caught 136 games, more than any other catcher, and had a fielding average of .983.

Pittsburg won in club fielding with a score of .964, with the following ranking as they read: Chicago, .961; Philadelphia, .961; Brooklyn, .956; New York, .954; Cincinnati, .952; St. Louis, .951; and Boston, .947.

Cannitz, of Pittsburgh, has probably the best pitching record, with 41 games played and a percentage of .806. Matthews, of New York, has the same average with 37 games played.

COACH YOST WON'T TALK.

Asserts, However, That Joy Miller Could Never Be a Star.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 27.—Asked tonight about the dispatch telling of the ineffectuality of Captain-elect Miller of the Michigan university football team, Fielding Yost, the Michigan coach, who is spending the winter here, said: "It is the strangest case I ever heard of and the only one of the kind on record. The boy must have paid his entrance fee, and yet he did not try to get what he had paid for, since he cut his classes. And he was a senior, too, having been at Michigan three years. I have little to say about this case further than this: They are very strict up there and I do not see how Miller ever got by the board of control."

Yost added that Miller had been trying to make the team for three years and was only put on last season after the first two games of the year had been played. "He played right end, but could never have been a star," said Coach Yost.

on the affirmative side. Many of the alumni said the control of the board by the regent was the only bar to the old-time relations between Michigan and its former rivals of the conference.

A member of the University of Chicago board of athletics seconded the desire of the wolverines for faculty control. According to this authority, the real difference now existing between Michigan and the other schools is that the Ann Arbor faculty is not in a position to manage athletics. Until the regents give up their control, according to the maroons, Michigan may never hope for a game with the University of Chicago or a return to the conference.

New Head of National League Greatest Umpire in World.

New York, Dec. 27.—Thomas J. Lynch, the new President of the National league, is known to fame as the best umpire who ever stepped on the field. He officiated in the National league in the eighties and nineties, and was universally recognized as the king of all judges of play. He finally retired after many years of great service to the league, because he would not any longer stand the constant abuse of the rowdies who were prominent in the game at that time, but have since disappeared.

Mr. Lynch was born in New Britain, Conn., and has lived there all his life. He is 51 years old, but looks 19 years younger. He had never been a professional player, but had umpired a good many exhibitions and independent games in New Britain and vicinity and his fairness and good judgment attracted the attention of the club owners of the Eastern league.

WOLGAST POSTS MONEY FOR MATCH WITH NELSON

Ad Wolgast won't rest in peace until he has clinched that "promised match with Battling Nelson." From Los Angeles comes word indicating the Milwaukee fighter had accepted the champion's ultimatum by posting a forfeit of $1,000 to bind the match. This display of enterprise on the part of the elastic kid scored a great hit with the fans, and chances are Nelson will delay his cruise to England long enough to accommodate Adolph.

That the battle is as good as scheduled is the belief of Nelson. When asked regarding the action taken by Wolgast "Bat" waxed highly enthusiastic. He admitted he had been skrimshanking with the view of going to London or one of those prosperous British settlements for the sole purpose of eliminating Freddie Welsh from the lightweight Marathon. But as the matter stands now he allows he'll linger longer in the states.

Wolgast can make any old weight the champion desires. In fact, the Cream City lad is the most accommodating athlete enrolled in the pugilistic field. Be it feather-weight, lightweight or welterweight, Wolgast is there with open eyes. At the ten-round style of milling he is touted a terror of the first firmament. Nelson is among the crowd to laud Wolgast in this respect.

"I'll admit Wolgast is some fighter," said the Battler last night, "and he gave me a warm scrap over the short route, but he will find an elephant on his hands when he squares away for the forty-five-round thing. I will clean up one more week at the theatrical gas and then hustle back to town ready to arrange for the ring campaign."

The proposed trip to England seems to be on the blink to Bat's way of thinking. When the idea was first broached Nelson asked that Welsh agree to travel forty-five rounds. The vegetarian isn't suffocated with pleasure over the prospects of a finish made, and there's where the case stands. In the meantime Nelson will probably turn his attention to the crying demand for a go with Wolgast.

as a valuable feature of the game," said Coach Stagg. "My remedy for football accidents is the opening up of the game, and this seems the best way to do it."

The soccer football game scheduled with Illinois for next November has aroused much interest among the rooters, who have begun preparations for forming a soccer squad.

McLEAN AFTER RECORD.

Aggressive Catcher Will Seek to Beat Record of Gibson Next Summer.

"It's me to break that continuous performance record next season. One hundred and twenty games in succession will have to fall as a big league mark. The only thing that will prevent me smashing the present dope is another broken leg—and the fellow that hands it to me will have to use an ax and a stick of dynamite." It was Larry McLean, the big Red catcher, who made these remarks, and he looked as if he could carry through his program, even if his smiling countenance did denote that he was letting off a little hot air pressure. "There's nothing to it but that I'll be there stronger than ever next year," continued McLean. "I'll do more or less outdoor work all winter, so that when spring comes around I'll be properly lubricated in the joints without running any danger of going stale. And that talk about making a new record isn't all josh, either. If Griff gives me the chance I'll do it, and not turn a hair in the performance, either."

DEAN HUTCHINS QUILTS.

Owing to the exceeding conservatism of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin and the fact that the athletic council stubbornly refused to increase the football schedule from five to seven games, Dr. Charles P. Hutchins, for three years athletic director at Wisconsin, has tendered his resignation to President Van Hise. The resignation will be accepted with regret by the board of regents. Dr. Hutchins' resignation is to date from Jan. 1 next. He receives $3,500 a year. He says he expects to engage in the fruit raising business in Montana.

WANTS EASTERN GAMES.

Marquette university, unable to secure football games with the conference colleges, is now looking toward the big universities of the east for games for 1910. Marquette has signed with Michigan Aggies and Notre Dame for next year and is now planning to open negotiations with schools farther east, such as Holy Cross, Georgetown, Cornell and Carleton.

BIF RAISE FOR BABE ADAMS.

Pirate Star Will Get Between $4,500 and $5,000 Next Season.

Pittsburg, Dec. 7.—Barney Dreyfus received a letter from Babe Adams in which the young star pitcher wrote Dreyfus to send on a contract and he would sign it immediately. It is supposed that Dreyfus offered Adams something between $4,500 and $5,000, while his salary this year was only between $1,500 and $1,800.

WHILE WAITING FOR APRIL.

Umpire McAtee, formerly with the New York State league, has signed with the Kansas league.

Bill Cranston, who made a kick about playing in Memphis, will be given a trial by the Brooklyn club.

Manager Roger Bresnahan of the Cardinals says that Ed. Konetchy will not be sold, traded or canned by him.

In Pitcher Lake, Jack O'Connor has grabbed a nice performer for his St. Louis Browns. Looked mighty good when a Highlander.

Southpaw Gregg of Spokane, for whom Charley Somers paid $4,500 last spring, is in good health once more and will go south with the Naps.

After the baseball war scare has been thrown in the discard, Mike Donlin's press agent can have a little space on the sporting page once more.

John Cocash has been sold by the Giants to Kansas City. John needed a little more minor league bleach in order to become ripe for big hotel living.

George Tebeau thinks that one sure way to increase batting would be to decrease the size of the home plate. Every hand is against the pitcher, the poor Zeb.

It is said that Manager Lake of the Boston Nationals has saved three empty tomato receptacles which he will tie to Messrs. Beaumont, Thomas and Ferguson.

"Rube" Waddell says that the official averages charging him with eleven errors in eighty chances are wrong. Mr. Waddell states that he had only seventy-nine chances.

Jack Dunn declares emphatically that he will have no major league cast-offs on his Baltimore team next year. Last season's Oriole bunnies came very near giving Jack the horrors.

A new trading stunt in baseball was put over when the Cleveland club swapped scouts with the Athletics. Scout Sam Kennedy goes to Cleveland and Scout Tom O'Brien moves to Philadelphia.

"Babe" Adams is the first of the world's champions to get an increase in salary and by the time the rest of the Pirates get theirs the Pittsburgh club will be more familiar with the baseball business.

The Philadelphia National owners claim the reason they refuse to pay Ex-Manager Billy Murray his salary is because Billy left his team several times last season. They are perfectly right in this matter, too. Just think, suppose some of the Quakers had fallen out of a hack or got lost while Billy was away.
